

WEST POINT.

Prof. Brown's Observations—Henn's Cadet Boy All Right.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 31, 1889.

To the Nevada State Journal:—Since my arrival in the East I have been too much occupied with business to fulfill a rash promise to let the JOURNAL hear from me. Frankness compels me to state that the hot and damp weather of this Coast does not promote one's desire for letter writing. However, I shall say that after the usual uneventful 73 hours ride through Ogden, Cheyenne, Omaha and Rock Island, I reached Chicago, which to me, is after New York, the most wonderful city in this country—wonderful for its size, its energy and its power. Its transportation and manufacturing interests are on an immense scale and are developing in all directions. By a vote of the city recently taken, the people decided to tax themselves fifteen millions of dollars for the purpose of completing

A SHIP CANAL.

From Lake Michigan to the Mississippi river. There is nothing small about Chicago.

Before reaching West Point I stopped a day at Ithaca, New York, to visit Cornell University, and one of the New York Agricultural Experiment Stations. The University is a large institution but it is said to be passing through some financial straits at this time. One of its most interesting features is a Ladies' Hall, in which the young women attending the school, as they choose, live comfortably and economically. President Adams and others in attendance at the Ladies' Hall were very much interested in the University. In the Agricultural Department I found the work in veterinary science very thorough and of great value. I would recommend it to those who wish to become veterinary surgeons. I arrived

AT WEST POINT.

In time to be present at the organization of the Board of Visitors. This year the Board numbered twelve in all. Two of these were U. S. Senators, Daniel C. Virginia, and Davis, of Minnesota. There were members of the national House of Representatives. The others were editors, teachers, business men and authors. One of the latter,

GENERAL LEW WALLACE.

We made our President. The readers of "Ben Hur" and "The Fair God" may be interested in more than a passing notice of General Wallace. His father was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1821. This may account for the military bent of the son. General Wallace, when a boy of nineteen, served in the Mexican war as a Lieutenant. In 1861 he took the 11th Indiana Volunteers into the field, and as the Colonel of this regiment he soon distinguished himself, so that he was promoted to the rank of Major General. After the war he devoted himself to literary work, and at this time he is enjoying the well-earned distinction of being first among American authors of fiction. "Ben Hur" so delighted President Garfield that he made its author Minister to Constantinople. At present General Wallace is engaged upon another novel which, like "Ben Hur," is likely to excite the Christian religion.

Under the law the Board of Visitors are required to make a thorough examination of all the departments of the Military Academy and to report the results to the President. We were occupied two weeks, and our report will be published next winter after Congress convenes. West Point is

A SPECTACULAR SCHOOL.

For the soldier and for the engineer. The chief branch of instruction in all military schools is mathematics, and in mathematics West Point instruction excels. Great attention is paid to the physical development of cadets, who from the beginning to the end of their four years' course are taught to stand, sit, walk, row and ride on horseback in the most approved manner. The result is that the West Point graduate is always a fine specimen of manhood and dignity. Next after mathematics in the course, I think the greatest importance is attached to language. The physical sciences are well taught, but there is not time for very advanced work in these. On the whole, however, a graduate of the Academy has a fine education. The rules at West Point forbid any use of tobacco or intoxicating liquors, and the entire spirit of the institution is next to impossible to be in the least dissipated in its relations at the Academy. The thoroughness of the education is such that a graduate of the Academy, who serves in the military, promotes at a rapid rate, and never acts as an instructor. On graduation day the Chaplain, in the robes of a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal church, opened the exercises with prayer and closed them with a benediction.

All the religious exercises at West Point are non-sectarian as they should be, and although there are many shades of religious belief among the cadets and the families they represent, there has never been any objection made to the religious exercises at the academy. I was assured that there would be complaint if these exercises were omitted.

The final examinations of the cadets were thorough and searching, and those found deficient were not permitted to graduate, or to advance to a higher class. The programme for graduation day was a model of its kind consisting of a brief address by the Superintendent of the academy, devotional exercises, an address to the graduating class and presentation of diplomas, all of which occupied less than an hour and a half. Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, at the request of General Sparks, the Superintendent, presented the diplomas. In doing so he referred to his graduation from West Point forty nine years ago, and his early experience as a soldier in the Florida war. His address was full of practical wisdom and was listened with the humor that has made the old hero so popular since his retirement from active service. He closed with an appeal to the young men to be as true as the needle to the pole in their devotion to their country.

I was one of the committee of visitors appointed to report on the admission of new cadets. This duty kept me at West Point a short time after graduation day, but it afforded me a good opportunity to see the initiation of the candidate into the soldier's profession.

After presenting his letter of appointment to the Adjutant, the young man reports to the Medical Committee, which is composed of army surgeons, for his physical examination. He is directed to remove his clothing and is subjected to a most careful inspection. He is weighed, measured and tested. He must have good eyes, good ears, good hands, good feet, and in short must be as nearly perfect physically as possible. If deficient physically he is sent home at once. If he passes the medical Board he returns with his certificate to the Adjutant who sends him to the Treasurer with whom he deposits $100. This is all the money he will need at West Point in addition to the forty-five dollars monthly allowance which the Government makes for each cadet.

Having obtained the Treasurer's receipt the candidate reports to the barracks where he is received by a detail of cadets who give him "his first lesson." It is a teachable and usually he easily passes this ordeal, but if he is pert or saucy, he will be sent home for a season. The object of this experience is to teach the candidate to put himself in the proper physical and mental position for a successful career as a cadet. When assigned his room in the barracks he has nothing to do before the scholastic examination, conducted by the Academic Board of Professors, except to read, write, study or drill occasionally in the barracks' court.

The scholastic examination covers spelling, reading, penmanship, arithmetic, English grammar, general Geography, United States History and English composition. This does not look like a formidable list, but nearly one-third of all applicants for admission to West Point, including many high school graduates and those who have taught elementary schools, fail to pass it. Last year the candidates were weakest in spelling from dictation, English composition, descriptive geography and fractions. This fact may be serviceable to school trustees.

HENRY C. CUTTING.

Of Nevada, easily passed the physical examination, and had no difficulty with the cadets who assigned him quarters in the barracks. His scholastic examination will be completed to-day or to-morrow. If he passes this Nevada is not likely to have another West Point cadet until 1893, the year his class will be graduated. If he fails to pass the June examination he will probably be given an additional trial next September. Should he fail then Nevada will be entitled to a cadet appointment in 1890.

Without the excellence of West Point as a school, I should advise no one to send his son there unless the young man had a decided bias for military pursuits. A good college is better adapted to prepare young men for positions in civil life than any military school in the world. L. D. B.

WANAMAKER'S PROPOSITION.

Postage Stamps to be Reduced in Size and Color Changed.

Specifications have just been issued by the Postmaster General for the guidance of bidders under the next contracts for postage stamps, advertised for under date of June 17, 1889. They provide for bids for two series of stamps in different size, one of them being the size now in use and the other about one-third smaller. In speaking of the proposed changes, Postmaster General Wanamaker said Saturday that he believed the smaller-sized stamp would be quite as useful and popular as the larger size now in use, and by reducing the size of the stamp a material saving would be effected, which could be profitably expended in securing a better and in every way a more desirable color.

Sir Julian Pannetier, the British Minister, will sail for England shortly and upon his return in the Autumn will be accompanied by his wife and two daughters. He has purchased several acres of land outside the city limits of Washington which will be devoted to farming purposes.

Robert W. Ward, Secretary of the Winthrop Brewing Company, denies the truth of the report that the brewery has been sold to an English syndicate, but there is a prospect that it will be sold.

A. C. Pratt, of Douglas county, succeeded P. B. Ellis as Deputy Secretary of State.

"Yellow Jack" has hung out his signal in the South.

The Board recommended to the County the appointment of James Mayberry as Water Commissioner of Water District No. 1.

The opening of the new road west of Washoe Lake was ordered granted in accordance with the prayer of the petition, and W. E. Price appointed to appraise the damage.

The petition relative to a certain order of the District Attorney and Sheriff was received, filed and tabled, being considered outside of the lawful jurisdiction of the Board.

The early lemonade booth on the sidewalk by Barnett's store was ordered removed by the Chief of Police, it being a nuisance and an unlawful obstruction.

Relief of $10 each was granted Mrs. Stackpole, E. D. Rodgers, Mrs. Anker, Mrs. Bigham, Mrs. Hurley, Mrs. McCann, and Mrs. Bracken.

Board adjourned until Wednesday, July 3d.

STARVING CATTLE.

Godeaux & Brandenstein Ship Twenty-two Car-loads of Them.

The Winnemucca Silver State, of Thursday, records this:

Yesterday M. Brandenstein & Co. shipped about five hundred head of young cattle to their California ranch near San Jose to feed. These cattle were said to have been fattened here for the San Francisco market, were it not for the drought. As feed is scarce they decided to ship them to California to prevent them from starving. Several other cattlemen are said to be arranging to ship poor cattle to California.

AROUND LAKE TAHOE.

What People Are Doing at "The Gem of the Sierras."

The following items are culled from the columns of the Sacramento Record-Union:

J. B. Scott, a wealthy rancher of Cosumnes, who has a large mountain ranch between Truckee and Tahoe, is erecting a twenty-room hotel for summer tourists at Bear valley.

Mr. Bailey, of the Grand Hotel at Tahoe City, has the usual number of tourists for this season of the year.

Illness is being put in readiness for the family of J. B. Wright, Superintendent of the Sacramento Division of the Southern Pacific Railroad. Mr. Wright was up a few days ago on a visit of inspection.

At McKinnon's the San Francisco school-masters hold the fort and are having a good time, with excellent success in fishing.

Mrs. Kirby, at Emerald Bay, has erected a number of very pretty cottages, which are all filled with teachers from San Francisco and Oakland.

The Bellevue Hotel at Sugar Pine Point, which was successfully conducted last year by Mr. Kasper of Carson, is run this year by a Mr. Roberts of the same place. It was opened last week.

The Tahoe House is managed by the same parties as last year.

"Yakus" is pretty full and a number of people occupy tents in the vicinity.

Sacramento will be interested in "Rancho Park," the new place opened this year by Mr. A. L. Frost, of Sacramento.

It is one of the most beautiful locations on the lake. A fine dock was made last winter at an expense of $500, at which the steamer lands, and a force is at work clearing the debris and putting the lake in shape for the inspection of the tourists.

Numerous Sacramento who will make this point their headquarters for the coming season.

Rubicon Park, about a half mile of the lake front, which is situated out in good sized lots, every one of which fronts the lake, is being cleared and put in shape for the coming season.

The most beautiful scenery being made, making the boating and bathing most delightful. The walks and drives are numerous, and a carriage can be driven to the very foot of numerous cascades made by several streams from the mountains behind and empty into the lake, and which can be directed into every lot.

There are three or four cottages at the park at present, and another is being erected for George Mott, of H. S. Crocker & Co.

It is reported that other Sacramento are at work building.

The presence of the general Captain Tedman will be missed this year from the deck of the steamer which makes her daily trip. He is quietly living at Tahoe City, and his health no longer permits of active service, at least at the present time.

The water of the lake is the lowest known for many years owing to the light snowfall last winter.

The Carson Mint.

The new officers took charge of the Carson Mint yesterday morning. The Democrats retiring gracefully. Buck Z. Brinkley, the Miller and B. R. R. will not proceed.

John Dennis for two weeks, as his bond has not yet been returned from Washington. Those who have gone in are: S. C. Wright, Superintendent; C. H. Cottum, Chief Clerk; Allen C. Briggs, Cashier; Lawrence Elrod, Bookkeeper; J. Humphrey, Record Clerk; W. H. Gieseler, Captain of the Watch; and Dan Sielem, M. L. Buckingham and A. K. Lamb as Watchmen. Mr. Elrod retains Adams as his assistant, and Luc Phipps for Weigher and Miss Olive Bray for Computing Clerk. The place in the Carson and Miller and B. R. R. departments will be filled and counting is resumed, which will be a no time in August.

The outgoing officers turned over $2,700,000 in gold coin and deposits, which is a good start for coming operations. The building is in and the various offices were surrounded in a very dignified condition, and the first thing Superintendent Wright will attend to will be to put painters, plumbers and carpenters to work, and clean up the place.

The following are the several rolls of names of the School for Girls for the month ending June 25, 1889: J. M. Randle, Principal.

WEEK ON LAKE TAHOE.

In the recent people with out, can't do do not see any difference in cheap westerns put up by cheap John Jones or responsible parties (assuming people rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at all prices.) No more time in the south, and such unproved satisfaction for getting the blood as HOOD'S Sarsaparilla. HOOD'S Sarsaparilla is the only medicine that will cure you nothing.

Irrigation Statistics.

The Enterprise says:

It is to be hoped that our people in all parts of the State will furnish our Surveyor General all the information of which they are possessed in regard to water available for irrigation and other uses; also in regard to sites for storage reservoirs and lands to which water may be carried by canals and ditches. Information in regard to natural springs will also be of use and interest; also what is known of artesian water, and whether the borings thus far made have shown any well-defined "artesian belts," such as are known to exist in California and other regions. As leading men of the nation and leading Senators and Congressmen are now taking an active interest in the proposed reclamation of waste lands throughout the arid zone, the people in Nevada should do all in their power to place before these men ample data in regard to the sources of natural water supply in this State. Now that the question is up and alive this is the time for us to bear our share. If we do not show up in good understandable shape what we have and what we want, no neighboring State or Territory will do the work for us. The iron is now hot—let every man who is able to hit a lick come down with his hammer, but it heavy or light.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, soothes the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-24-19.

Sierra Fuel Supply.

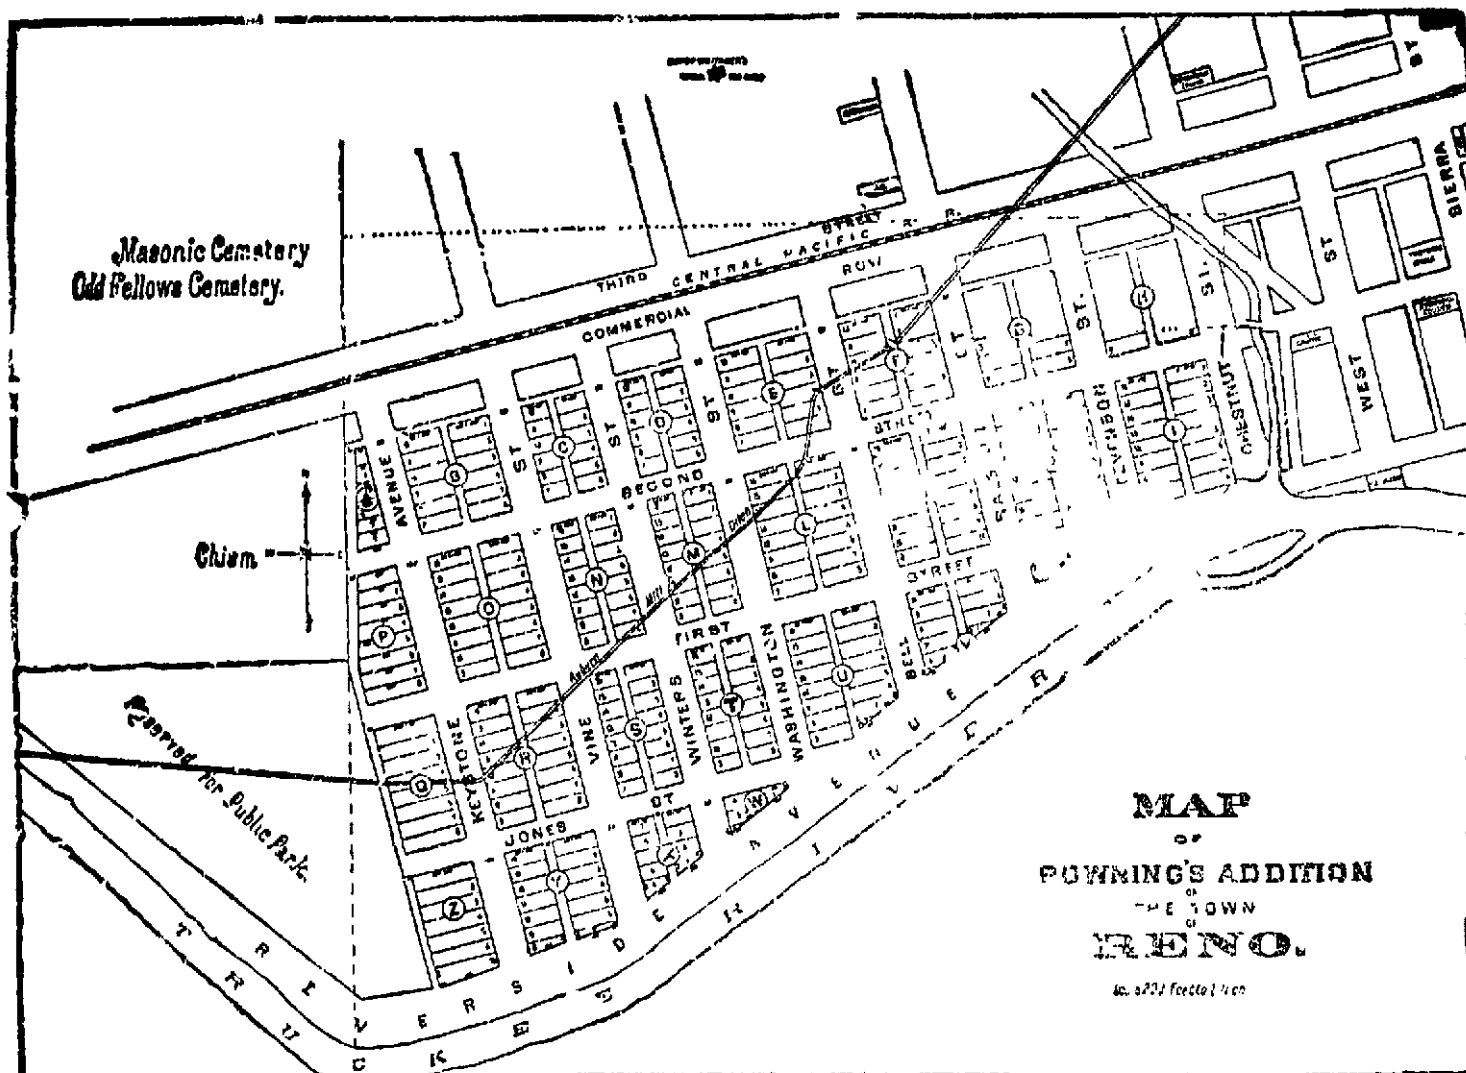

The wood cut on the Sierras along the line of the Central Pacific Railroad will be about 40,000 cords this year against 100,000 in 1871. The difference is not due to the supply being exhausted, but to the fact that all the timber contiguous to the line of the road has been cut for a breadth of several miles on each side of the track. The wood-burning locomotives on the Central Pacific consume 100 cords a month each. The wood costs about $3 72 per cord delivered alongside of the track.

Notice.

On and after Monday, June 25th, I will sell Soda and Sarsaparilla at 75 cents per case, two (2) dozen in case. Send in your orders.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee - The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway - Splendid Sewerage - Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

RENO

Has no equal in Nevada or California for salubrity of climate, wealth of soil, diversity of products and stability. Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
